Advancements

Looked at the Filter configuration within ZAP. The typosquatting user story could be implemented as a filter.

To add a filter we created a class extending the ExtensionAdapter class while implementing the ProxyListener. Then to be able to use the filter the filter should be added to the package, so the factory can load it.

Next Step

Looking at unit testing and looking at the filters: how would our filter look like (design)? How would we test it?